

There are so many pretty ribbons to create fun bracelets for girls of all ages. You can make this bracelet as an accessory for a favorite outfit or show your school spirit by using your school colors. VELCRO® Sticky Back for Fabrics ovals make using ribbons as bracelets a snap.

Materials:

VELCRO® Sticky Back for Fabrics, oval, beige (2)
 Pellon® 3" white Mid-weight fusible interfacing
 3" x 5" Fabric glue Ribbons, 1/4": Aqua (2),
 green-and-white polka dot, orange-and-white polka dot Crystal embellishment White sewing thread

Tools:

Tape measure, scissors, iron, sewing needle, low-
 tack masking tape

Project by Carol Heppner

Instructions:

1. Measure your wrist with the tape measure. Cut the interfacing to measure 1-inch wide by the circumference of your wrist.
2. Add 1 1/4-inches to the measurement in step 1 and then cut the ribbons to this predetermined measurement.
3. Center the ribbons, side by side, onto the fusible side of the interfacing. Use low-tack masking tape on the edges of the ribbon to hold the ribbons in place. Iron the ribbons onto the fusible interfacing, making sure not to iron over the low-tack masking tape. Remove tape.
4. Create a 1/2-inch fold in the ribbon ends, making sure the raw edges are on the inside of the bracelet and then glue in place. Let the glue dry.
5. Use a needle and thread to secure the crystals to the center of the bracelet.
6. Secure the hook side of VELCRO® oval onto one side of the bracelet and then the loop side onto the opposite side of the bracelet.
